Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTIONClaim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Choi.

Choi discloses a remotely controlled toy vehicle including at least an on-board power supply (40), at least a plurality of wheels (23,24,25,26) supporting the vehicle (10) for itinerant movement, at least one motor (42) operably coupled to at least one of the wheels (25) to provide at least part of the itinerant movement of the vehicle (10), a controller circuit (41) configured to selectively supply power from the power supply (40) to the at least one motor (42) in response to commands from a transmitter (77) remote from the vehicle (10) to move the toy vehicle (10) and at least one light source (54), characterized by the controller circuit (41) being configured to selectively supply power to illuminate the at least one light (54) in response to a signal indicating the vehicle is performing a particular maneuver (col. 4, lines 59-62); the light source (54) is a LED (col. 3, lines 63-64).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Choi in view of Robb.

Choi discloses the claimed invention except for the power to the at least one light is modulated as a function of time to vary a level of illumination intensity provided by the at least one light.

Robb teaches an illuminated toy having a plurality of lights (174,176). The lights are modulated as a function of time to vary a level of illumination intensity of the at least one light (col. 12, lines 21-30).

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the lights being modulated as a function of time to vary a level of the illumination intensity as taught by Robb, since such a modification would provide enhanced play or decorative purposes.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 4 and 5 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
